In ancient times our hearts were bond
Sweet our touch deep our trust
In ancient times we cared we shared
No one less all divine

Our movements felt like warm wind blows
Flowering our power grows
River flows with sacred silver
We were part of nature ever

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

You'll be back when you connect in one second
You'll be back when you connect in one second

Every part of this oneness
Like your hand that touches precious gold
New born child or wise old man
All in cycles of the cycle

Our movements felt like warm wind blows
Flowering our power grows
River flows with sacred silver
We were part of nature ever

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

You'll be back when you connect in one second
You'll be back when you connect in one second

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

Start it now again
We are all the same
We are already one
Future has begun

Every part of this oneness
Like your hand that touches precious gold
