

Listen

Written by Andrea Leonhardi and Robbie Boyd

Like a flower in the moonlight,
Like a rainbow in the sky
Everything's communicating,
And reflecting the Divine

There's so much to learn, take your time, observe
Every moment counts, listen to the Universe

The more that I let go, the more I let you in
The more that we can shine, that's where trust begins
When we come back to giving space, we'll Be Love again
And when we make light our living way, all of you can change
Now I can see your beauty opening

Like a ripple on the ocean
Sending signals to the shore
We are all connected islands
Effecting what we cause

There's so much to learn, take your time, observe
Every moment counts, listen to the Universe

The more that I let go, the more I let you in
The more that we can shine, that's where trust begins
When we come back to giving space, we'll Be Love again
And when we make light our living way, all of us can change
Now I can see our beauty opening

We are all equal and there's nothing we don't know
As we keep going deeper, we let our light overflow
Our movement is the secret, as we appreciate
With the power of our grandness, we learn to Co-Create

There's so much to see, it can set us free
How we choose to live, is the key to harmony

The more that we let go, the more we let it in
The more that we can shine, that's where trust begins
When we come back to giving space, we'll Be Love again
And when we make light our living way, all of us can change
Now I can see our beauty opening
Now I can see our beauty opening