

Surrender

Written by Andrea Leonhardi and Robbie Boyd

Like a boat, I'm sailing through, with the wind I call to you
Breathing in I'm feeling true, as I let it all unfold
I hear the sound of nature call, and see the wonder of it all
When I allow the space to flow, and I lose my control

There is something much bigger and we're all part of it
We need only remember that it's futile to resist

Like a sailing boat, I'm guided by my Soul
I let it take me over I as surrender to the Fire
In the ebb and flow, through the waves I go
The wind of Heaven blows, as I surrender to the Fire
I'm opening up for more light, there's no rush, no fight.
I'm changing my life; Surrender to Fire.

There's a tide around the globe, with a rhythm to behold
There's no time for us to own, we are vessels for the truth
Look how we're held in deeper Space, I can see it in your face
You caress and I embrace, and the future comes to you

Can you be in your power? Can you be patient to the call?
Is there some kind of magic, waiting for us all?

Like a sailing boat, I'm guided by my Soul
I let it take me over I as surrender to the Fire
In the ebb and flow, through the waves I go
The wind of Heaven blows, as I surrender to the Fire
I'm opening up for more light, there's no rush, no fight.
I'm changing my life; Surrender to Fire.

Break the circle, give up control, surrender to fire
Love keeps melting, hearts we're heating, surrender to fire
Break the circle, give up control, surrender to fire
Love keeps melting, hearts we're heating, surrender to fire

Like a sailing boat, we're guided by our Souls
We let it take us over, as we surrender to the Fire
In the ebb and flow, through the waves we go
The wind of Heaven blows, as we surrender to the Fire
We're opening up for more light, there's no rush, no fight.
We're changing our lives; Surrender to Fire.
We're opening up for more light, there's no rush, no fight.
We're changing our lives; Surrender to Fire.
